

Social Justice Watch Night Service

Saturday, December 31, 2016 10:00 pm – midnight
(from the Metropolitan A.M.E. Church, Washington, DC)

This watch night service grows out of “The Revival: Time for a Moral Revolution of Values” national 22-state tour, led by Rev. Dr. William Barber, leader of North Carolina’s Moral Mondays protests. His organization, Repairers of the Breach, is a nonpartisan and ecumenical group committed to fighting extremism and advancing state-based moral public policy agendas. The service will include sermons and testimonies from leaders of various social justice struggles, as well as people who have been personally impacted by these social justice issues. People of all faith traditions and moral conviction are welcome.

This program will be live-streamed at:

<https://www.breachrepairers.org/livestream>

The Unitarian Universalist Fellowship of Central Michigan will host the live-stream of this event. Please join them at 319 S. University, Mt. Pleasant at 10:00 pm on New Year’s Eve.

This national program is being sponsored locally by the Mt. Pleasant Area Diversity Group (MPADG).