

The Seven Principles of Unitarian Universalism

We covenant to affirm and promote:

- The inherent worth and dignity of every person;
- Justice, equity and compassion in human relations;
- Acceptance of one another and encouragement to spiritual growth in our congregations;
- A free and responsible search for truth and meaning;
- The right of conscience and the use of the democratic process within our congregations and in society at large;
- The goal of world community with peace, liberty, and justice for all;
- Respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part.

A whole new version of UU values has been proposed, as represented in the graphic below.

in these sorrowful times?
We are seeking something to hold us. Someone to hold us,
for we feel so weary."

*Spirit of Life, come unto me.
Sing in my heart all the stirrings of compassion.

Roots hold me close; wings set me free;
Spirit of Life, come to me, come to me.*
